Every year, this highly successful course inspires many students to progress on to study French with a range of other languages at university. French also compliments other degree subjects such as English, Linguistics, Law, Business and Marketing, ICT, History, Journalism, Media and Engineering.

“I enjoyed studying French at the Alun. I felt my language skills really improved over the course. Small class sizes meant I always felt supported by my teachers, who inspired me to continue studying languages. Studying French gives students advantages in the world of work and an understanding of other cultures.” Kate Carroll

“At the Alun my love for languages grew stronger. I chose to study languages as they are so important now in the current climate to achieve success. With my language skills, I have been given many opportunities - for example living in France and Germany. If you ever get the chance to study a language, snap it up!” Sally Purnell
